CHARDONNAY

"This wine comes from older vineyards, so I meddled as little as possible and let the grapes do the talking. I carefully integrated 25% new oak to give the wine a medium to full body without compromising its delightful mineral sparkle.

What resulted is a wine of dizzying depth and elegance which has been touted as South Africa's finest Chardonnay. The palate is dominated by white pear and citrus, while the long layered finish is supported by a fine flinty edge.

Decanting this wine will bring its distinguishing features to the fore; savour it now or any time in the next decade."

NEBBIOLO

"This brave wine is my tribute to the visionary viticulturist who planted the first Nebbiolo vineyard in the Cape over twenty years ago.

I have allowed the natural tart acidity of this classic Italian variety to come through, while seeking to provide balance with hints of sour cherries, raspberries and hibiscus tea on the finish.

I am seduced by the wine's brilliant garnet red hue which reveals flashes of amber around the edges.

The bouquet features notes of rose petal, dried wild herbs and fynbos, which are all backed up by earthy, leathery tones.

This wine will benefit from decanting and I look forward to seeing its evolution over the next decade."

PINOT NOIR

"This wine comes from characteristic Elgin vineyards where the soil plays a major role in the resulting wine. The gravelly Bokkeveld shale has a high iron content and is underlain by clay. This combination gives the wine great structure and delightful minerality, while still allowing the softer elements of a Pinot to shine through.

The wine displays a wonderful luminosity that is reminiscent of ripe cherries, while the bouquet is a rich amalgam of red berries, wild mushrooms and dark chocolate.

This is a wine that will benefit greatly from decanting and it has incredible ageing potential for the next 15 years."

SAUVIGNON BLANC / SEMILLON

"I believe that a blend should always be greater than the sum of its parts. To this end I picked, fermented and aged the Sauvignon Blanc and Semillon portions separately so that the grapes could really express themselves. After blending, the wine spent a further six months in barrels to allow the two varieties to mould into one.

I pick up delicate notes of elderflower and orange blossom on the nose which are backed up by a broad and textured palate with a bright acidic seam that gives the wine backbone.

This wine is a delight now, but its fantastic ageing potential means it will go through many reincarnations over the next ten years."
